My Biography

Communicative photography. I feel it is a gift. A gift through which I am able to tell the story through the photographs I take. A gift through which I can allow people to escape. A gift through which I am able to provide a spectator with the joys and sorrows that the stories behind the photos tell. The stories. The photographs. The images that are forever impacted in my mind and in my negatives that reflects some great moments in history. I have seen floods and droughts, fire and ice, joy and sorrow, and each photograph tells a new story. I have gone miles underground and 37,000 feet in the air to capture life in motion. In turn, I have my own story. With my wife of 21 years by my side, we have created a portfolio spanning my 35 year career that has taken me from coast to coast. Through annual reports and business advertising, we have worked with some amazing clients through which I owe my greatest gratitude. Yet, all in all, I am just telling the story.
